Please contact the Administrative Front Desk Staff to set up the appointment with one of our counselors. The counseling fee is covered by the Clinic. Counseling is a mandatory part of the embryo donation process for donors & recipients; therefore you and your partner (where applicable) need to have a counseling session in order to proceed. At the counseling session you will explore several important topics related to embryo donation. The embryos are offered to recipient(s) three months after the counseling session at a minimum.

3. Infectious Disease Results:

Updated infectious disease bloods are required for egg and sperm providers

To donate embryos we require infectious disease blood results for egg and sperm providers at the time of freezing and at the time of donation. You can have these tests done at our clinic or at an outside lab. Please notify the embryo donation nurse when you are ready to have the tests done so that she can provide you with the requisitions. If you are doing the tests at an outside lab please notify the embryo donation nurse once the tests are done and provide her with lab information so that she can follow up with the results.

4. Personal History

The personal history form must be completed and returned for egg & sperm providers.

The embryo donation nurse will use your anonymous, non identifying personal and family history as guidelines to match the embryo(s). Please provide as much details as possible as it will be reviewed by the potential recipients(s) and they will use this information to decide if the embryo(s) are right for them.
